Gong Meditation

The gong is an ancient and sacred instrument for healing, restoration, and transformation throughout the world. It produces a strong sound wave, almost tangible to the touch, which stimulates the physical body by influencing the surface of the skin and every cell. On a physical level, the gong releases tension, it stimulates a higher functioning of the glandular, circulation, and nervous systems, and it tonifies our vital life force.

Start your Summer with a deep and low Gong Meditation with Cory Flanigan and Mary Griffin. We will also include Qigong and breathing techniques.
